When all you need was a little motivation
They pointed fingers and yelled dead generation
When all you need was a little care
You get nothing but an old white hair bland stare

Have you ever needed an ounce of love
And all you got was a whole lot of fucked

So say your prayers
It's the death of a nation
Say your prayers
For the dead generation

Condescending broad generalizations
Get real, real fast
Just because most hippies and their parents have sold out
Doesn't mean that you, your children and their kids won't last

So say your prayers
It's the death of a nation
Say your prayers
For the dead generation

So say your prayers
It's the death of a nation
Say your prayers
For the dead generation

Aggressiveness is godliness
Combativeness is holiness
Destructiveness is faithfulness
Deadliness is devoutness

Praying to a God that they created
And know damn well does not exist
We'll find them on their knees
