I heard a man on the radio saying, "We're facing an economic hell"
It creates a vision in my head of ten thousand kids sent off to kill
There's always a voice says that, "You've got a choice"
But a choice between shit is still shit

Resistance, resistance, I won't be used
By a fascist corporation, a rightwing politician
I'm not a slave, not a tool, fuck you

Resistance, resistance, I won't be used
By a fascist corporation, a rightwing politician
I'm not a slave, not a tool, fuck you

I've got an idea in my head and I know it's nothing new
But it seems to me a better plan than being used and being screwed
Think your safe to spread your hate from behind your iron gates
Your walls will never be strong enough to keep us down

Resistance, resistance, I won't be used
By a fascist corporation, a rightwing politician
I'm not a slave, not a tool, fuck you

Resistance, resistance, I won't be used
By a fascist corporation, a rightwing politician
I'm not a slave, not a tool, fuck you

Sometimes there is not a choice
Like when your backs against the wall
So it's better to make a move
Before they've set you up to fall

So you, so you better organize
So you, so you better open eyes
So you, so you better sound out loud the call
Before you find your back is up against the wall
Their fuckin' wall, yeah

Resistance, resistance, I won't be used

By a fascist corporation, a rightwing politician
I'm not a slave, not a tool, fuck you

Resistance, resistance, I won't be used
By a fascist corporation, a rightwing politician
I'm not a slave, not a tool, fuck you

Resistance, resistance
