Everything that I see
There's no future for me
Everything that I read
There's no future for me, go

No future taught from the day we're born
A generation apathetic, youths are told
Your future is not to be forced on the world
The salad days of revolution are inborn

We will break, we will break
We will break free, yeah

Everything that I see
There's no future for me
Everything that I read
There's no future for me, for me, for me

No future a marketing genius franchise
Playing off the boredom of the disenfranchised
Just dregs of humanity you have no future
Keepin' you thick and uninterested

We will break, we will break
We will break free, yeah

Everything that I see
There's no future for me
Everything that I read
There's no future for me

No future, advertise
No future, merchandise
Everything that I see
There's no future for me

I know, I know
Can't change your future unless you change yourself
I know, I know
It's what you buy, not what they sell

I know, I know

Can't change your future unless you change yourself
I know, I know
It's what you buy, not what they sell

Everything that I see
There's no future for me
Everything that I see
The future belongs to me

Everything that I see
The future belongs to me
Everything that I read
The future belongs to me

The future, the future
The future, the future belongs to me
