I can't believe what you said to me
Last night, we were alone
You threw your hands up
Baby, you gave up, you gave up

And I can't believe how you looked at me
With your James Dean glossy eyes
In your tight jeans with your long hair
And your cigarette stained lies

Could we fix you if you broke
And is your drunk line just a joke

I'll never talk again
Oh, boy, you've left me speechless
You've left me speechless, so speechless

And, I'll never love again
Oh, friend, you've left me speechless
You've left me speechless, so speechless

I can't believe what you slurred at me
Through your half wired broken jaw
You popped my heart seams
All my bubble dreams, bubble dreams

Oh, I can't believe how you looked at me
Through your Johnnie Walker eyes
He's gonna get you and after he's through There'll be no more love left to rye

And I know that it's complicated
But I'm a loser in love
So, baby, raise a glass to mend
All the broken hearts
Of all my messed up friends

I'll never talk again
Oh, boy, you've left me speechless
You've left me speechless, so speechless

And, I'll never love again
Oh, friend, you've left me speechless
You've left me speechless, so speechless

And, after all the drinks and bars that we've been to Could I give it all up
Could I give it all up for you

And after all the boys and the girls that we've been through
Could you give it all up
Could you give it all up
If I promise, boy, to you

I'll never talk again
I'll never love again
I'll never write a song
Won't even sing along
I'm speechless, so speechless

I'll never love again
Oh, friend, you've left me speechless
You've left me speechless, so speechless

Hooow
Haaa-ooo-ow
Haaa-ooo-ow
