I start to notice the same address
But I can't remember the smell of sex
It starts again not knowing when I'm dead
These numbers seem familiar
I can feel their failure

You can see the bird
In all her curves
I want to catch her
Open wide for the butcher's wife
She's gonna get you
It's two blind mice on fucking fire
These cuts are costing us a lot of blood

I wonder what was I thinking
To keep such bones from all to see
She opens up the door
"Those cuts are mine to keep"

Or so she speaks
These are days where the shadows make the ninja elite
So start the battle and drink the bottles
He gets the girls but I write the words

I wonder what was I thinking
This bird and ain't meant to be free
She opens up her wings
And proceeds to fly away
I caught your cold today
There I go, I get lost in smoke
In coloring books when I'm the most
But how could you? How dare you?
I threw darts to sea then my boat was beached
And I tried to pretend that it wasn't me
But how could you? How dare you?
Oh
I killed everyone

She will say until there is nothing left to say
And that's the truth, I really wish you'd stay
To hear them say: "You really played a great show today"

The ninjas slay but don't bother to clean their blades

You do me wrong

I'm not coming back again, this time I'm not coming back

I sing this song "I'm not coming back again, this time I ain't coming back"

Just close you're eyes; I'll make it all better tonight, I'll make you feel so good tonight

Eyes open fixated in fright

"I wanna show you Baby's breaking bloody fight"
