Right at five the sound burst through the door.
Splinters shattered piercing breaks the floor.
Hiding under sheets that brush my face.
Falling feathers cover suffocate...me.

Knock on the door, bury me whole.
Beating once more, bury me whole.

Wait, take me home. Break, take my life away...

Disappear I melt into the wall.
Quick descending wings spread break my fall.
Hands that lift me up they brush my face.
With one kiss our bodies separate.

Ding Dong Ding Dong Ding Dong Ding Dong...
