

Trouble "Another Day"

Don't cry I know it might be hard
But I won't be very far
Remember how to smile
I need to leave you for a while

There is a way think I found another day
There is a way think I found another day

I hope you know that I love you
So the skies keep turning blue
Stand up and face all your fear
Think of me through the years
There is a way think I found another day
There is a way think I found another day

Live on all things are the same
For my sake and in my name
Never be afraid to die
Cause I'll be waiting in the sky

There is a way think I found another day
There is a way think I found another day
