Children grow in a house of Love
Filled with Hate. but I never cried
Living in dreams. that are reality
Can't you see. they are calling for me

Problems on their minds just get worse
Everyone is here, but I'm all alone
Feelings of depression, adolescent times
Can't you see. there is nowhere to hide
I'll never understand
Why they think we're wrong
Tryin' to change me
Tryin' to run my life
Leave me alone
Don't want to be like you
Don't want to see like you
How can I believe in me

Close your eyes. look into your mind
See yourself as you really are
As you really are.
Don't be lost in your self sorrow
Know the meaning of what you are
No more lies only you know the truth
No one but you
It has to be you only you

In our lives, there are changes everyday
Don't you run away

Just remember who you are
And what you can be
Have the faith and your dreams
Your dreams will come true

Sometimes you think. that tomorrow will never come
Don't let it get you down

Live your life in your own way
Be what you want.

Have faith and your dreams
Your dreams will come true
