(Micke Luna)

Look at me
And tell me everything you see
When I pull my thoughts up high above
You are the one that I am thinking of Dream of me
I'm living in your fantasy
I sit alone and I just cry
I know that I will never hold you tight

I sit and dream
That we'll be
Staring at each other in the night
By a soft moonlight
But I know it's not enough
For my fairytale love
Don't look away
Turn the page
And you'll see me on the other side
No one can hide
You're the one I'm thinking of
You're my fairytale love

The silent air
Reminds me that life ain't fair
For keeping us so far apart
The hurt is burning deep inside my heart
And I can't see
How living in this world can be
A total nightmare from beginning to end
My life with you is what I wish to spend

I sit and dream
That we'll be
Staring at each other in the night
By a soft moonlight
But I know it's not enough
For my fairytale love
Don't look away
Turn the page

And you'll see me on the other side
No one can hide
You're the girl I'm thinking of
You're my fairytale love

Bridge

I sit and dream
That we'll be
Staring at each other in the night
By a soft moonlight
But I know it's not enough
For my fairytale love
Don't look away
And you'll see us on the other side
No one can hide
You're the girl I'm dreaming of
