"Silly People"

Well, look at all the silly people
Wanting to find out
Well, if there's somewhere to be happy
Everyone's in doubt

Can't they see that we've been through it?
Don't they understand?
Well, look at all the silly people
Turning us away
Each and every one denies us
Each and every day

Can't they see that we're just trying to,
Build a sunny day?

Look out!

So we'll try with all our might
To turn them honest true
But silly people head and know it all
Twice as much as you

Someday they'll all know you know
That we will be the proof
