what will I be?
If I continue to take this difficult way I chose to go and if I drop out now, I lose everything, and everyone I've got to keep me warm and I will be happy, i won't be sad sometimes I think about the things I wish I had

I could have spent some time, and try to catch a flight but I chose to take the bus, I'll get there right on time

I chose to take the long way the harder the struggle, the greater the reward I want my whopper my way and I know it won't be right away what should I say when people ask me what the hell i think i am gonna be if i tell the truth they think i am bragging despite of all the progress that i've made
