

Antifreeze

"The Search For Something More"

Visit "The Search For Something More" on MotoLyrics.com

With ever action,
overt trembling
And every reaction,
I'm analyzing

Maybe I've been too anxious
And Maybe I've just been over-thinking this I'll be the one with hopes that reach the sky

but they'll come crashing...

The search for something more
It seems so futile
I'm just being honest
I don't think that it exists
Though some pretend to care
Is anybody caring, honest?
And what made me come to this?

With every moment,
I mean less to you
In every moment,
I search for some truth

Maybe I've been too open
And maybe I've just been over-thinking this
I'll be the one with regrets that hang to the ground
And they'll be dragging...

Maybe I've been too honest

And maybe I just don't know how to play your games
I'll be the one who knows to keep it inside

Visit Antifreeze page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.