The sun was rising in the sky
Just like the day before
Just another normal day
Not knowing what's in store

Naturally you found a way
To creep into my mind
You're whispering, I'm listening

How'd you get inside
Listen up, I've heard about enough
That's right, I've turned my life around

Never, oh no, never again
Will I fall for your schemes
Will I fall for your plan

Never, oh no, I won't give in
This game's gotta end
'Cause I'm not turning back

Never again I was not a stranger
To the lies that you had told
I have been in danger
Of desires taking over
Everything that I believe
And all I know is true

Hypnotized, compromised
All because of you
Listen up, I've heard about enough
Sick of the lies you told me

Don't you know I've turned my life around
Never want to see your face
Sick of being in this place

Why can't I just live without you on my mind
You were mesmerizing, I thought
Now I see through all the lies I bought
