"Typical"

Open your eyes
Hear all the voices inside my head
It's no surprise
Filtering through all the things you said

I can't believe that you're here again
You keep pretending there's no end

Chorus:
If I'm such a loser
Than why do you hang around me?
You're always trying to change me
You always say 'if only'
If I keep listening to all the things you said
You're so miserable
You're so typical

Taking your cue
From a magazine that talks to you
The feeling you had
Without an original point of view
[well]
Oh look here she comes again
Runaway train comin' round the bend

If I'm such a loser
Then why do you hang around me?
You're always trying to change me
You always say 'if only'
If I keep listening to all the things you said
You're so miserable
And I'm invisible
This love's predictable
You're so typical

Bridge:
It's always the same
You can't find sunshine in pouring rain
Day by day
Finding someone else to blame

[oh]

I can't believe that you're here again
You keep pretending there's no end

If I'm such a loser
Then why do you hang around me?
You're always trying to change me
You always say 'if only'
If I keep listening to all the things you said
Then I'd be you instead

If I'm such a loser
Then why do you hang around me?
You're always trying to change me
You always say 'if only'
If I keep listening to all the things you said

You're so miserable
And I'm invisible
Love's predictable
Inconceivable
Unbelievable
Undeniable
Uncontrollable

You're so typical
