Every day's just another day
I wish they shown in the same old way
I miss the way that things started out
See me now don't see me then
How things are, not how they could have been.
I miss you, there's no other way to say it but this.

When troubles come down my road,
I wish you would care, but you just sit there.

Please love me like I've loved you now and before.
Things just aren't the same and I can't take it anymore.
I'm willing if you are to change the shadow on our lives.
But it'll take both of us, not just one but both of us.

The sunshine won't shine no more
Cuz you're not there to walk through that door.
Remember all the good times we've had.
You promised you'll try but you haven't yet.
You claim you have, you wanna make a bet?
You walk away when I try to get the key to your heart.

When troubles come down my road,
I wish you would care, but you just sit there.

Please love me like I've loved you now and before.
Things just aren't the same and I can't take it anymore.
I'm willing if you are to change the shadow on our lives.
But it'll take both of us, not just one but both of us.

Long silences is more common now.
Try to help us, only God can say how.
What happened to my best friend?
We were supposed to never end.

Please love me like I've loved you now and before.
Things just aren't the same and I can't take it anymore.
I'm willing if you are to change the shadow on our lives.
But it'll take both of us, not just one but both of us.

Every day's just another day

I wish they shown in the same old way
I miss the way that things started out.
