There's no way out as the water fills your lungs
You can taste the end as it moves across your tongue
So close your eyes and swallow hope for one last try
You should say a prayer, see if you can say goodbye
'Cause I'm still picking up the pieces that you break

Lost yourself until I found you
Under the city lights, you lost yourself tonight
You lost yourself 'til I found you
I saw your face tonight dreaming in black and white

And there's one way out, breathe the air that fills your lungs
'Cause the light inside burns brighter than the sun
Don't close your eyes and swallow hope for one last try
And give yourself one more chance tonight
Start picking up the pieces that you break

Lost yourself until I found you
Under the city lights, you lost yourself tonight
You lost yourself 'til I found you
I saw your face tonight dreaming in black and white

You keep shutting your eyes, you're slowing it down
Say your last goodbye 'cause time is running out
You keeping shutting your eyes, slowing it down
Say your last goodbye 'cause time is running out

You keeping shutting your eyes, you're slowing it down
'Cause time is running short, short, short

Under the city lights you lost yourself tonight
The world felt closer when I found you
Under the city lights you lost yourself tonight

Under the city lights you lost yourself tonight
The world felt closer when I found you
Under the city lights we dream in black and white
It's still not over until I find you, I find you, I find you
