Your quiet heart is beating so loud
I feel you shaking
You know there's nothing I can do
With every word your heart spills out
It's getting closer

Now every second burns right through
The wait is over, the lights flicker out
And this moment is what you die for
It's not over, it's just begun

I don't recognize you anymore
'Can't let this feeling go away
Your body is lifeless on the floor
Can't hear the words you say
What are we fighting for?
You settle up the score
Reverse and remember

There's no place left to run tonight
It's getting closer
We'll be [Incomprehensible] satellites
It's still not over

I don't recognize you anymore
Can't let this feeling go away
Your body is lifeless on the floor
Can't hear the words you say
What are we fighting for?
You settle up the score
Reverse and remember

Reverse and remember
Reverse and remember

Your quiet heart is beating so loud
You know there's nothing I can do
With every word your heart spills out
For every second burns right through
The wait is over, the lights flicker out
And this moment is what you die for

Do you even know where you are?
