I thought that this was solid
Stability and safety sitting in my hand
Just take a look at your life
Your all alone!

Who'll be there when I need someone
Count on nobody and no one will let you down
I don't care, just let me go
I don't need this anymore

Love is not forever
Friendship is not forever
There is nothing set in stone
You're on your own

Who'll be there when I need someone
Count on nobody and no one will let you down
I don't care, just let me go
I don't need this anymore

Dependence is followed by weakness
Don't be your own hostage
If I know so many
Why don't they know me

They don't know me

Just take a look at your life
Your all alone!
Now I know what we're made of
Confusion, Complication, and Uncertainty
I thought this was real, I was wrong
So I don't know

Who'll be there when I need someone
Count on nobody and no one will let you down
I don't care, just let me go
I don't need this anymore
Who'll be there when I want someone
Don't expect that anyone will go out of their way
I don't care that I'm all alone
I don't need this anymore
