You've got friends, you've got friends
Practicing ventriloquists
Sentences, pretenses
They're spoken for you

But what they don't know
Could fill a room

You've got friends
What's wrong with them?
Skeletons, just talk to them
Or go see a doctor of medicine

So you're depressed
(So you're depressed, you're feeling down)
And heads a mess, I'll listen to you
(Your head is floating in the clouds)

And recommend
Then promise to meet again
(And recommend a time for us)
(To see each other again)
