What's on the other side of the wall
Seems like my world has gotten so small
Where are the friends who don't ever call
Is there an answer to these questions at all

When will they come and open the door
I can't hold out anymore
I just can't wait to have it all now

Just take it one thing at a time
(I want it all now)
You'll have to learn to wait in line
(I'll get it some way, somehow)
I want it all now
(All now)

I saw somebody get married today
Saw people crying as they drove away
Old ladies laughing and children at play
I ask for love, but they don't hear what I say

I want to feel what everyone feels
What will tomorrow reveal
I just can't wait to have it all now

Just take it one thing at a time
(I want it all now)
You'll have to learn to wait in line
(I'll get it some way, somehow)
I want it all now
(All now)

What is it like to kiss a real girl
To think you're in love and get married to her
Have lots of children and grow fat and old
And die like a fish on the end of a pole

Walking down the main street, looking at the people
Shopping at the market place, standing on the corner
Praying in the temple, dancing at the disco
Working at the factory, party on the weekend

I just can't wait to have it all now
(I want it all now)

I just can't wait to have it all now
(Just take it one thing at a time)
I want it all now
(You'll have to learn to wait in line)
I'll get it some way, somehow
(I want it all now)
All now
