If there's any doubt in your mind, don't waste your time
Because when you find what it's all about

When you're feeling locked up inside yourself
And you're trying to find the key to let yourself out

If you get to feeling like you've never felt before
Then you know without a doubt

If you wonder why you frown and that you're still on the ground
Well you can just look around at what you've been without of

And just because somewhere along it started feeling wrong
And it's been too long since you opened your mouth

Then you get to wondering why it took so long to find There's just one thing you can't do without
You better stand up and shout

If you're feeling satisfied don't make it stay inside
It's time you tried to let it all out
Stand up and shout

When your head is feeling light and everything is right
And you don't know what the fight is all about
Stand up and shout

When you get to thinking things you never thought before
Then you'll know, without a doubt
Come on and stand up and shout!

Well, alright!
(Stand up and shout)
(Stand up and shout)
(Stand up and shout)

Are you with me honest people?
(Stand up and shout)

All you white punks
(Stand up and shout)
All you young Americans
(Stand up and shout)

And the backstreet tramps
(Stand up and shout)
And the sad eyed ladies
(Stand up and shout)
Mr. Rhinestone cowboy
(Stand up and shout)

All you young dudes
(Stand up and shout)
Everybody stand up and shout!
