I didn't know if I wanted to laugh or cry
The night that disco died
The lazer lights were kickin' off my dancin' shoes
But there was nobody dancin' in sight Got high with the song of gloom The moon is listenin' in

What will we be singin' in the 80s, what should we be
singin' now
What will we be singin' in the 80s, what should we be
singin' now

You gotta help us get back on the track again mack You gotta help us get back over the wa-all I can see Sergeant Pepper standin' high on a hill With George, John, Ringo and Pau-aul, a-and Paul

What will we be singin' in the 80s, what should we be
singin' now
What will we be singin' in the 80s, what should we be
singin' now

The lights went out in the city around me Alone I feel so co-old
They killed the lights and they killed the music
But they'll never kill rock and ro-oll, oh-oh no

Don't look back over your shoulder
The world is growing colder

What will we be singin' in the 80s, what should we be
singin' now
What will we be singin' in the 80s, what should we be
singin' now

What will we be singin' in the 80s, what should we be
singin' now
What will we be singin' in the 80s, what should we be
singin' now

What will we be singin' in the 80s, what should we be

singin' now

What will we be singin' in the 80s, what should we be singin' now [fade]
