

Antigone Rising "Abelene"

Abelene, the day is done
war was fought war was won I believe that you believe that
We are not the only ones Abelene, the truth is clear we spend our time in love and fear
And I believe it
you believe it
and we are not the only ones

Do you recognize your life looking through the eyes of your angry youth and sordid past? but Abelene, there is a difference between the face that's in your mirror and the one that's on the carbon dated photographs

Abelene, your light still shines purest reason, and plainest rhyme
And I believe it
and you can see it
and we are not the only ones

the war was fought the war was won
And I believe it
And you believe it
And we are not the only ones
I believe it
you believe it
We are not the only ones
