

Antigone Rising "Better"

Visit "Better" on MotoLyrics.com

Outside the madness come to me Feelings are much higher underneath I would crawl up inside you know that I'll try to lonely is only as lonely as we we're only so lonely

I don't mind where you go while you're gone You let me know if it's better And I don't mind when you go why you're gone and I'll leave you alone if it's better

You could stand on my shoulders for air to breathe and I would bow to kiss the ground cause here is where I found you and where I'd leave you

And brighter will find you but don't let it blind you you can't ask forgiveness for what you don't see and what you don't see is that

And there are angels besies you they keep and they guide you but your eyes are just as sad as they can be are they so sad like me?
