So it begins
the long winded story
from a distant day
sacrificed beliefs
unhappy endings
Once upon a time...
Half more than friends
and not really lovers
start the dance in time premature relief
halted beginnings
love was living blind
I won't be no more alone
I don't want to be no more alone

Show me a sign guardian Michael fill her full of light for these eyes haven't seen a break in the darkness I can recognize

And I can hold my breath until these eyes, they look familiar Can I wait on the edge of permanent midnight
will I lose my mind

I won't be no more alone
I don't want to be no more alone

When out came through the clouds a ray of revelation
So I lay down my doubts and bow in celebration I can walk the fire and risk damnation
