For every time you cried from all the frustration
You swallowed your pride
You wear the scars of the imprisoned arise
And you can testify

Blessed are we, we are free
Ominira, oh Ominira
And all our hurt is now our history
All that hurt is now our history
All that hurt is now our history
Our history, oh!

Gather unto you, your scattered resources
Have long been misused
Give again your heart, don't let their corruption taint you
Your strength will multiply

Blessed are we, we are free
Ominira, oh Ominira
And even our broken hearts will mend eventually Ominira, oh

Blessed are we, now we are free
Ominira, oh Ominira
And all our hurt is now our history
All that hurt is now our history
All that hurt is now our history
Our history
Our history
