I finally realized the clouds were in my eyes i couldn't see the sun i tried to masturbate
but i found out too late it wasn't any fun
i was a hopeless case pimples on my face i didn't know what to do i started hating life that's when i got a knife and i left you
i saw you standing there
and i just didn't care
the sunshine in your hair made me not want to care
freckles everywhere
me not want to care

her body was alive when she smiled i lost my mind my sister stood before me i didn't feel the guilt that all my muscles built and this was all i could feel i asked her for a date
i didn't know what to say and now i'm doomed to hell inside a padded cell i guess it's better this way i saw her standing there
the sunshine in her hair
when i saw her standing there

i saw her
with sunshine in her hair
