Dreams for sale get em cheap
Youve got a new friend out on the street
Flashing eyes those looks that kill
Time to go hunting for a brand new thrill
Throw it away
Dont keep on hanging round
Time to get away
Theres new love to be found
Dont get sentimental
Its just a runaround
Out your ass back out on the streets
Its time to shop around
Dont want no dont want no recycled love
Ive gotta get away from this vicious circle
Its not what I was thinking of
Dont want no dont want no recycled love
Just take me to the edge of total surrender
And give me a little shove
Dont want no dont want no recycled love
Thats all I ever get thats all thats ever left
Recycled love
You always seem so nice when you catch my eye
A sweet face like yours how could it ever lie
Your words so precious fall like gentle rain
Flash like diamonds floating down the drain
Then one day all the lights go out
You wake up crying cant help but shout
How could it happen like this again
Wont I ever learn
Wont it ever end
