"Blow Me"

You think I'm fat, but it's an optical illusion
You know I'm hot, it's just my chemical solution

So when you hear my mighty call
You better hoist your sails and pray for the gods of wind to blow us all

So blow me
Blow me like the wind
Blow me
Blow me once again

Tonight I'm feeling tops on the stairs of evolution
I call the shots in my genetic revolution

Because I've been waiting, waiting night and day Just hoping something good might blow, might blow my way

So blow me
Blow me like the wind
Blow me
Blow me once again

If I gave you a turn on, would you raise my antenna
But if I gave you a dime, would you blow my paradigm
If I gave you my candle, would it be too hot to handle
If I ran for election, would you support my erection

So blow me
Blow me like the wind
Blow me
Blow me once again

So blow me
Blow me like the wind
Blow me
Blow me once again

Blow me
Blow me like the wind

Blow me
Blow me once again
Blow me like the wind
My friend
