In my five mile high club
You was on a fall
I concentrate on landing
The town was peaceful

Jet planes fly too close to the ground
It makes these houses shake
Friendly figures fall to the ground
In a sentimental earth quake

Oh, that's alright, that's alright
That's alright, sad song tonight

For these are the days that are driving me crazy
These are the days taht are driving me insane
Every day let your love shine down all around me
These are the days that are diving me crazy

When brothers and sisters fall to the ground in half hast harmony
With lives of dreams 'fore their wide eyes
But small reality

Oh, that's alright, that's alright
That's alright, sad song tonight, oh

These are the days that are driving me crazy
These are the days that are driving me insane

We take a train then a jet plane
Travel back and forth in time
Plesed to meet you, what's your name?
I'm afraid I've forgotten mine

Oh, that's alright, that's alright
That's alright, sad song tonight

For these are the days - let your love shine down all around me
For these are the days - let your love shine down all
around me
For these are the days - let your love shine down all

around me
These are the days - let your love shine down all around me
