

Turin Brakes "Stone Thrown"

I'm the stone
You've just thrown into the ocean
How many stones have you thrown?

Turin' brown
I'm going down for the very first time
Now where's the truth in this?

I dared to dream
But you were more violent
Than the worst hurricane

Oh, take me sailing again
Oh, take me sailing again

You're taking aim
Your fiery flame infects the freedom fighter
Your love was just a fucking game

So love me like a brother should
Keep me safe from home like nobody could do
Oh, I see the sorrow, it don't look too good

Oh, take me sailing again
Oh, take me sailing again

But here in the ocean
The currents drag me deeper down
But I'm the stone that can't be drawn

Oh, take me sailing again
Oh, take me sailing again

I'm the stone
You've just thrown into the ocean
How many stones have you thrown?
