If you got what you came for why should you stay?
If you know where you're going why delay?
If you won't be returning don't say goodbye.
Turn you back on the ocean and follow the sun through the sky.

When will I see you again?
When will I see you again?

I've already forgotten all of your names.
And I cannot remember when you came.
Grab your things and get going; don't say goodbye.
Turn your back on the ocean; go see what's out there to find.

It's time to let go.
Goodbye and so long.
All the best along the way.
Couldn't I keep you another day?
[x2]

When will I see you again?
When will I see you again?
When will I see you again?
When will I see you again?
