your face

im still not over your face headlights breaking throught the rain over londons winter nights i came all the way here tonight to look in your eyes

i came all the way here tonight just to see you chorus

holds me over your face it wipes away the rain with a hundred summer skies and everythime i talk to u its like im allright everytime i talk to u i get a little closer to life bridge

you are the face that heavean showed me when i needed someone someone to love

say that u will show me the quiet kind of love behind your face your face let me shoulder your face all the stars and suns above are jealous in its light u steal the sky away from them and bring it to life

u steal the sky away from them and bring it to life

u r the face that heaven showed e when i needed someone

say that uw ill show me that quiet kind of love behind your face
