Save me, 'cuz I'm in a sea of beings.
And there's no deny; the waves are holding me under.

I'm drowning in a thousand faces.
Alien expressions over and over again.
I'm trying to scream but I can't exhale.
The world seems to spin as I'm left on this square with no will to hold on.
Am I the only one crushed by the weight of the world?

Save me,

'cuz I think I've swallowed more than I can comprehend.
A soul laid low.

A soul has lost its faith again, wide awake in this hole.
A maggot on a plate again, wide awake in this hole.
A soul has lost its faith...
I've lost myself too long.
Am I the only one
crushed by the weight of the world?
