"Tough Guys"

You won't change cuz I can't change you
You won't bend cuz I can't break you
You won't stay cuz I just bring you down

The rain swept away the regret
The bomb dropped and only we're left
You can't run when I'm your only friend

Why do I lose it for Tough Guys?
Why do I lose it for you?

I thought by now you'd know me
I'm here why are you so lonely?
You can't cry cuz you're just too damn tough

Cold streets and empty buildings
Hard shells with sugar fillings
Everythings just peachy when you're down

Why do I lose it for Tough Guys?
Why do I lose it for you?
I don't know why
I went and lost my mind
I always lose it for you
