You never told me from the first time
I had to beg you not to leave
You never seemed to care the first time
Now it's the last time you are walking out on me

You've done enough for me to hate you
Expecting me to forgive you
I don't believe you'll change

I don't know where I went wrong
You only want me when I'm gone
You're not that smart and not so strong
You always want me when I'm gone

It's Over, all over, so over
You'll never know
What does it take to make you believe
How did we ever start
You deserve a broken heart
Cry me a river, we're so through

People change and I forget you
The light dims and still you,
Like a ghost that i can't shake
I feel so stupid when I look back
All the things that you lack Reflected onto me

I don't know where I went wrong
You only want me when I'm gone
You're not that smart and not so strong
You always want me when I'm gone

It's Over, all over, so over
You'll never know
What does it take to make you believe
How did we ever start
I don't deserve this broken heart
Cry me a river, we're so through

You never told me from the first time (said you were my friend)

I had to beg you not to leave (thought you were my friend)
You never seemed to care the first time (never were my friend)
Now it's the last time you are walking out on me

It's Over, all over, so over
You'll never know
What does it take to make you believe
How did we ever start
I don't deserve my broken heart
Cry me a river, we're so through (X3)

I cried and now i'm over you.
