"Wake Up"

All of us are wondering
Why you look like you're suffering
You destroy me
I destroy you too

Wishing you could just explain
Why you feel sad and out of place
You destroy me
I destroy you too
When you gonna wake up (wake up)
When you gonna see that something's wrong
When you gonna face your self destruction and be strong
You say can't help yourself
Let little pills control your health
But you're still blue
And I feel used
You accept your bitter fate
While I just sit around and wait
For you to fall
It hurts us all
When you gonna wake up (wake up)
When you gonna see that something's wrong
When you gonna face your self destruction and be
strong
Why do you always keep coming back to me?
I think you should seek emotional therapy
Not enough no one cares been down this road before Get a grip, get a clue, what are you waiting for?
