"Lackadaisical"

Want to believe in something strong
Want to think I am the one
Want to get over this wall inside

Nothing ever
Can erase all this bitterness
Once again
The tables have turned to block my way

Disconnected in a dream
Latency sings it's lullaby
Is anything for real

Nothing ever
Once again
The tables have turned to block my way

Something's wrong and someone dies
That's a fact and no surprise
It doesn't matter 'cause I'm lackadaisical

You fell in love I failed to live
That's ok I can forgive
It doesn't matter 'cause I'm lackadaisical
