Defeating you defeating me
It's all designed
It's all you want me to see
But you feel I try to fake my way
The more that I can always push it away

The washed out lines
The ocean sway
The more I find
To chase away

Needing you
To push me through
Before I make
The motion to take me away
Do you feel it too
It's saving me
From making you
And all you wanted to be

The washed out lines
The ocean sway
The more I find
The more they keep on crashing
Slipping away

As you do
Is this thing true
To twist me right
And missed on you
The more I try
The moments waste away

Confessing my
Devotion why
It tore you through
And brought you to
The moment I was trying to convey

The washed out lines
The ocean sway

The more I find
The more they keep on crashing
Slipping away

As you do
Is this thing true
To twist me right
And missed on you
The more I try
The moments waste away

Confessing my
Devotion why
It tore you through
And brought you to

Confessing my
Devotion why
It tore you through
And brought you to
The moment I was trying to convey.
