There are those who wake up every morning

Pull the curtains back smilin' at the sun

They hold their head high when the rain is pouring

Lay down in peace when the day is done

Oh, then there's the rest of us

The ones out here blowin' in the wind

Tryin' to find what we shoulda been

Makin' our choices hopin' we're right

Livin' on the prayers we say at night

Tryin' to outrun the devil and the pain

Learnin' to live with what we can't change

God bless the rest of us

There are those who find love the first time

And do what it takes to make it last

They don't have to lose it to finally realize

The sweet, sweet gift that they had

Oh, then there's the rest of us

The ones out here blowin' in the wind

Tryin' to find what we shoulda been

Makin' our choices hopin' we're right

Livin' on the prayers we say at night

Tryin' to outrun the devil and the pain
Learnin' to live with what we can't change
God bless the rest of us
Sometimes, oh, it's all I can do to breathe
But I'll be alright with my brothers
And my sisters around me
The ones out here blowin' in the wind
Tryin' to find what we shoulda been
Makin' our choices hopin' we're right
Livin' on the prayers we say at night
Tryin' to outrun the devil and the pain
Learnin' to live with what we can't change
God bless the rest of us, God bless the rest of us
God bless the rest of us, oh
