Something's gonna get you
It's gonna fuck your day
They won't forget you
Won't let you have your say

They're gonna push you, put you under the thumb
Inside your dying, you got nowhere left to run
But I'm walking I'm talking about these new ideas
Keep walking keep talking keep rolling back the years

But I ain't got nothing more that I can give
You cannot make me live the life you live
Things are getting harder everyday
So there's nothing left for me to say
It's just another day in paradise
It's good to see, looks like you're wearing well
I won't forget you, I won't forget your smell
I'm walking I'm talking about these new ideas
Keep walking keep talking rolling back the years

Don't let them get you don't let them put you down
You go out fighting or else you're gonna drown
I'm walking I'm talking about these new ideas
Keep walking keep talking, rolling back the years
