The days and nights went by but no one told me

They can be fun too if you only see.
There's such a lot of beauty you can live for.
You only need someone to open up your eyes

And you will see things never seen before.

I see a star

A brand-new star

It's right there twinklin'
In your eyes.

I see a face

A happy face

It's like the mirror of my mind.

I see a star . . .
I see a face . . .

You opened up my eyes for all the beauty.
The beauty we're inhaling every day.
It's been there all my life so it's my duty.
I won't loose sight of it
the fire that you lit

Will keep on burning till the end of time.

I see a star . . .
I see a face . . .
I see a star . . .

Happiness now is being shared by two
I just started my life anew.

I see a star . . .
I see a face . . .
