Should've known there'd be danger

When i saw your face in the crowd

Now I'm trying to work past my anger

I should know better by now

I used to believe in the love songs

Took me so long to back down

Every word you say takes my breath away

But I should know better by now

Chorus:

I've know you're sorrow

But everybody 's place can hear me.(?)

I've known your sorrow

Since g-d makes the rain

I see tomorrow

And everybody tries againI see tomorrow

G-d makes the rain 2x

I used to believe in the spiritis

Turned all the words into sound

But I was your walk on the wild side

I should know better by now

If you see me look into something

Someone will never be found

When i look away

Turn your eyes astray

Cause I should know better by now

Chorus

I used to hold my fury

Keep it bottled tight

Doesn't lift the thoughts away

Sees each and every night

But if i put my faith in someone who was only trying to bring me down

I will stand, where i am standing now

Shouldn't known there'd be danger

When i saw ur face in the crowd

Every word u say takes my breath away

But i should know better by now

Chorus.

God makes the rain -repeated
