a.k.a Every Word Means No, there are two versions)

Watching for a sound to lead me to where ever you go

I can't help it I will always love you

Chorus:

It used to be no words could come between us

Any time was right for secret meetings

It's different now and when you speak

Every word means no (2x)

I'm thinking of things that come to life

Your going through some things so shallow

Theres nothing to fight

It used to be no words could come between us

Any time was right for secret meetings

It's different now and when you speak

Every word means no (2x)

I'm a slave I'm anything

I haven't lost my way

I'm looking around in directions

'Cause all I ever thought about was you

Predicting puts me down on shaky ground

I keep thinking your looking at me

Do you want me around

It used to be no words could come between us

Any time was right for secret meetings

It's different now and when you speak

Every word means no (2x
