Sister Psychic won't you tell me does it ever get better

Can you really see the future or just predict the weather

Are we in our finest hour or headed for disaster

Use your super powers and rescue me

We were there at the start we've got Polaroids to prove it

Skateboards and scars and embarrassing home movies

But if you really wanna see where it's all goin'

Switch on your T.V. she's all tellin, all knowin'

She knows everything

Can you help us find the ones on the missing posters

Is my baby being true, am I doin' what I'm supposed to

Could you help me find my keys or better yet lifes meaning

Are those tarot or dialogue cards that you're reading

C'mon tell me everything

Sister why would I tell you my deepest, dark secrets

So you could take my diary and rip it all to pieces

Just $6.95 for the very first minute

I think you've won the lottery that's my prediction

since you know everything
