Pretending to remember
Our last December
And everything it was
Hoping to fix the broken
Stood by the fire place
Blue Flames lit up my face

And everything I said
(Walking on glass)
I practiced in my head
And all that I could do
(Walking on glass)
Was recite my lines to you...

Pretending to recall
The way it was last fall
For lack of better days
I think this time of year
You see everything too clear
You still can't understand the pain

And everything I said
(Walking on glass)
I practiced in my head
And all that I could do
(Walking on glass)
Was recite my lines to you...

I can't / Forget
A word / You said
And everything it meant
Instead / Of you
I fear / Myself
Guess all that I can do
Is take back everything that I've given to you

Pretending to remember
Our last December
And everything it was
Hoping to fix the broken
Stood by the fire place

Blue Flames lit up my face

And everything I said
(Walking on glass)
I practiced in my head
And all that I could do
(Walking on glass)
Was recite my lines to you...

I can't / Forget
A word / You said
And everything it meant
Instead / Of you
I fear / Myself
It's all that I can do
Cause you're uncomfortable with me
Yeah, you're uncomfortable with me
(Just answer the question)
Why can't I, just understand
What's inside you
Is it just guts, and black stuff
I'll find out soon
Cause anything that you do or say
Couldn't compare to the pain that I felt
The day that we said that we'd go our separate ways
