Open your eyes and look inside my twisted world.
Hope you realize that I could never go on without you.
Open your eyes and see my walls are crashing down.
Cover my eyes for the last time.

Tell me everything I need to know.
Knowing me I will always loose control.

Take it all away from me.
Only do I live today to tell you.
Smash my face again for nothing.
And you, you're gonna get what you deserve.

Open your mind and see that there's much more to me.
Hope you realize I know my hope for life's disappearing.
Open your mind and please don't leave me hear all alone.
Cover my eyes for the last time.

Tell me everything I need to know.
Knowing me I will always loose control.

Chorus

Every time that you're getting inside my twisted head.
I find it's crazy corrupt that I wish you were dead.
I keep dealing with all these emotions that are stirring,
stirring inside.
You know I felt this pain today.
It's one of many so it doesn't matter anyway.
I keep dealing with all these emotions that are stirring inside.

Chorus
