[Incomprehensible]

I saw you just the other day, I couldn't bear to see your face

And I know it's my fault inside you feel all this pain
I barely have the strength to move on
I've got this guilt that something's wrong
So I just turn my head and walk the other way

I try to stick up for myself all you do is bring me down
So I'm telling you exactly what I think Whore yourself to even the score, fuck everything that you stand for
And I know I can't take this anymore

'Cause it's over now, 'cause it's over now
'Cause nothing will last forever

Remember how it was back in the day all we used to do is play
Fantasies that everything would be okay
People grow up and people change, things will never be the same
But I know I miss you so fucking much

'Cause it's over now, 'cause it's over now

I go on about my day hoping every thing's okay
But I feel this in my mind I will never ever hide
And it's locked inside my pain I can't seem to get away
Because nothing lasts forever

Everything is not okay
I can tell that you're afraid
Go ahead and run away

Run, run, run, run away
Run, run, run, run away

You think I'm acting too hard with the sickness in my mind
You keep fucking with me bitch I know that I can't hide

No matter what you do or what you say to me I keep bawling
You know that shit is fucked up

Back on up while I roll up my sleeve
I got this pain that's taken over me
I got my nine it's by my side
It's Friday night I'm ready to ride so bring it on

Run, run, run, run away

It's over now, 'cause it's over now

I go on about my day hoping every thing's okay
But I feel this in my mind I will never ever hide
And it's locked inside my pain I can't seem to get away
Because nothing lasts forever

Run away, run away, run, run away
