And the moon, it wants to give me away
And my god wants me to pray
I hate communists for being red
And I hate these voices up in my head

I don't ever wanna wake
To find myself awake
And I don't ever wanna die
To find myself already dead
And I don't ever wanna love
To find myself already in love
Well every single day's the same
And I guess that's great

I think the walls in here are caving in
Did they just say something and touch my skin?
Why won't this picture just answer me?
Be my friend tonight, don't let me sleep

I don't ever wanna wake
To find myself awake
And I don't ever wanna die
To find myself already dead
And I don't ever wanna love
To find myself in love
Well every single day's the same
And I guess that's great
I guess that's great

Got me looking for more
I was tired and poor
And I was passed out on your floor
Guess I'll just drink more
Moonshine
Shine, yeah

I feel my neck stroked by the clock's big hands
I sip my coffee but I am drinking sand
I won't be mummified in satin sheets
Because I know my life's better than my dreams

And I don't ever wanna wake, never wanna wake
And I don't ever wanna wake, never wanna wake
And I don't ever wanna wake, never wanna wake
I don't wanna be awake

And I don't wanna die, I don't ever wanna die
And I don't wanna die, I don't ever wanna die
And I don't wanna die, I don't ever wanna die
I don't wanna die

I don't wanna ever be in love, be in love
And I don't ever wanna love
Never be in love
I don't ever wanna be in love, be in love
And I don't ever ever
Wanna be in love

I don't ever wanna wake
To find myself awake
And I don't ever wanna die
To find myself already dead
And I don't ever wanna love
To find myself in love
Well every single day's the same
And I guess, I guess
I guess that's great
I guess that's great
That's great
I guess that's great

Yeah I guess that's great
