

Low Life, The "Paddle Out"

Visit "Paddle Out" on MotoLyrics.com

Paddle out
Out to sea
You're safer on the edge
Then when in between
Lost your faith
You had to leave
You gathered up your things
And then you came to me
A chance of life
Or better death
All of us are here cause we have nothing left
Fight the wind against the waves
We're haunted by the ones that we couldn't save

I say we're not so far away
Try to forget how far we've gone
Can't close my eyes these eternal days
Hard to sleep
A never ending sun
I wish the rain would come and slap me in my face
To pull me up or throw off for my sake

Night and day
Alternate
And nothing ever happens
Nothing ever changes
Scream at God
Curse his name
I made the promise I'm the one to blame
A chance of life
Or better death
I'd rather lose it all than face whatever's next
Paddle out
Out to sea
I would chance hell just to live with me

I say we're not so far away
Try to forget how far we've gone
Can't close my eyes these eternal days
Hard to sleep
A never ending sun

I wish the rain would come and slap me in my face
To pull me up or throw me off for my sake
I'll evaporate
For my sake
I'll evaporate
For my own sake
I'll evaporate
For my sake
I'll evaporate

Paddle out
Out to sea
All I ever promised was a destiny
Chance of life
We'll fight till death
We will not say that there's nothing left
Ships wreck
People die
But that's how you get to the other side
Paddle out
And if you follow me
The last thing we drink won't be the sea

I say we're not so far away
Never forget how far we've gone
Can't close my eyes these eternal days
Hard to sleep
A never ending sun
I wish the rain would come and slap me in my face
To pull me up or throw me off for my sake
I'll evaporate
For my sake
I'll evaporate
For my own sake
I'll evaporate
For my sake
I'll evaporate

Visit Low Life, The page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.